

EASTER: Mar. 31

//DISCUSS

Q1 – When was the last time you had a situation where you thought, “How could I fall for that? I should have known better.”

Q2 – What’s something or someone that tends to bring out your cynicism?
Why do you think that is?

Q3 – Christians believe the worst thing happened to the best person who endured it, overcame it and grew something beautiful from it for the sake of others.
What frustrating circumstance or situation do you think God might want to help you endure, overcome, and build something beautiful from?
What do you think it would take for that to happen?

Q4 – Adam said that paradise is less a place and more of a person. To believe Jesus is with you-no matter where you’re at or what you’re going through-is to experience paradise.
Have you been able to call out to and connect with Jesus in the midst of a hellish situation and experience peace? What happened?

Q5 – The power of resurrection can bring anything back to life including what cynicism killed in you.
What are you perpetually pessimistic about that you think God might be wanting to give you hope for? Why do you think that is?

- Luke 23
- Ephesians 2:8-10

//PRAY

Lord, we pray that you would help us allow you into the cynical places in our hearts, to turn them into places of peace. That we would look to you and your resurrection power in even the darkest of places to bring us hope.
